

Please read the consent form carefully

We invite you to participate in a web-based online experiment on attention. The experiment should take around 20 minutes (no more than 30) to complete.

You must be at least 18 years old to participate in these experiments. The decision to participate in this research project is voluntary. You do not have to participate and you can refuse to answer any question. Even if you begin the web-based experiments, you can stop at any time by closing your browser.

There are no foreseeable risks or discomforts to you for taking part in this study. You will only be rewarded for completing the task not for the length of time you participate. You will be compensated for good faith participation in this experiment. Submitted HITs will be rejected if they are completed in a manner that appears to be random, incomplete, or otherwise negligent.

Your data will be handled in a confidential manner. The data you provide will be stored in a secure database and your responses will not be linked to your Turk worker ID. Your worker ID will only be used for payment. Non-identified data may be publicly shared on the Open Science Framework or a similar platform. The purposes of data sharing are to document the results reported in a paper and secondary analysis of the data by others.

If you have any questions about this study, please contact: Chloe Callahan-Flintoft, chloe.a.callahan-flintoft.civ@army.mil

This study has been reviewed and approved by Army Research Laboratory (ARL).

ARL's Human Research Protection Program/Institutional Review Board shall have access to records for auditing and checking compliance with regulations.

By clicking below you are indicating that you consent to participate in the experiment on Volunteer Science.